Report Pursuant to Reporting Requirements in Local Law 102 of 2015

Background

Local Law 102 enacted in 2015 requires the Department of Education of the New York City School District to submit to the Council an annual report concerning physical education for the prior school year.

This report provides information about the provision of Physical Education instruction, including the average PE class size, average frequency and average total minutes per week of PE as defined in Local Law 102, Adapted PE and the granting of PE substitutions, as reported through the STARS database for the 2022-23 school year. The report also includes information regarding the number and ratio of licensed PE instructors, PE teacher participation in professional learning, and designated Physical Education instructional space.

Schools self-report their scheduling information in STARS. Data are gathered from various sources, including the Division of Human Resources, Office of School Wellness Programs, Division of School Planning & Development, and the Office of Policy and Evaluation.

Note: Due to differences in data held at the city versus the state level, this report includes data on licensed PE instructors, which are held at the city level, rather than certified instructors, which are held at the state level. There are teachers with New York State Education Department (NYSED) PE certification who are teaching under a different NYC license.
